Level	Title	Description	Numbers
I.	Works.— MSS. Works.	The first part of this section contains entries relating to articles on Linnaean MSS., and the second part lists collected editions of two or more of Linnaeus's works whether as originals, translations, or reprints.	Nos. 1-29a.
I A.	— Appendix.	To six of the sections [viz. Nos. I, II, III, IV, VI, and X] there is an appendix containing titles of critical, descriptive, and other works relating to or founded upon the works of Linnaeus given in the section in question. Thus, in Section I.A. are included Pulteney's General View of the Writings of Linnaeus, 1781 [No. 33a], and also Vandelli's Diccionario dos termos technicos de historia natural extrahidos das obras de Linneo, 1788 [No. 34], as being works referring to Linnaeus's writings in general.	Nos. 30-38.
II.	Systema Naturae.	This section is subdivided into sections A and B, the former relating to editions I-XII of the Systema Nature, 1735-68, as recognized by Linnaeus himself, and the latter to edition XIII and to works relating to editions I-XIII. Chronological arrangement is observed throughout, indices being placed directly after the edition of the Systema to which they refer.	Nos. 39-142.
II A.	— Appendix.	This contains titles of works relating to or founded upon the Systema Natural and the Linnaean System in general.	Nos. 143-182b.
III.	Travels.	This section contains Linnaeus's accounts of his journeys undertaken for purposes of scientific observation. Commentaries, translations, and critical writings follow the original work. In the appendix are found general works on Linnaeus as a traveller.	Nos. 183-223.
III A.	— Appendix.		Nos. 224-227b.
IV.	Botanical Works.	Here are Linnaeus's botanical writings, arranged on the same chronological principle as the titles in the preceding sections. The appendix gives a list of works founded upon or otherwise related to the botanical works of Linnaeus.	Nos. 228-620a.
V.	— Appendix.		Nos. 621-919c.
VI.	Medical Works.	This section is arranged on the same plan as Section IV, and the appendix contains general works and papers on Linnaeus's career as a physician.	Nos. 920-989.
VI A.	— Appendix.		Nos. 990-1011a.

VII.	Mineralogical and Geological Works.	This section and its appendix are arranged on the same principle as Sections IV and VI.	Nos. 1012-1025a.
VII A.	— Appendix.		Nos. 1025b-1035.
VIII.	Miscellaneous Works.	Here are found writings of Linnaeus which cannot conveniently be classified in any other section, as, for example, a book, the subject-matter of which has an economic interest [No. 1043], or such a work as Nemesis Divina , 1848 [No. 1060].	Nos. 1036-1080.
IX.	Museological Works.	Entries relating to the catalogues drawn up by Linnaeus of the Museum Tessinianum, 1753, the Museum Adolphi Friderici, 1754, and the Museum Ludovicae Ulricaе, 1764.	Nos. 1081-1100.
X.	Zoological Works.	This section and its appendix are arranged on the same principle as the botanical sections IV and V.	Nos. 1101-1218.
XI.	— Appendix.		Nos. 1218a-1271f.
XII.	Theses and Orations.	This section is divided into two parts, the first [Nos. 1272-1331] being an account of the collected editions of the dissertations known under the general title of Amoenitates Academicae , and the second [Nos. 1332-2460a], a catalogue of the original separate editions. The first part (Collections) is also subdivided into two parts. In the first [Nos. 1272-8] will be found some general notes on the Amoenitates Academicae and a list of the sets of the Amoenitates in the library of the British Museum (Natural History). The second subdivision [Nos. 1279-1331] gives an analytical account of these sets.	Nos. 1272-2460a.
XIII.	Letters.	Collections and selections come first [Nos. 2461-2491b], followed by a catalogue of individual letters and correspondence with particular individuals [Nos. 2492-2568c]. Autographs come first and the rest follow in chronological order of their publication.	Nos. 2461-2568c.
XIV.	Life.	This gives in chronological order of publication those works entirely devoted to or containing an account of Linnaeus's life.	Nos. 2568d-3120.
XIV A.	Portraits.	This section is divided into three parts. The first part [Nos. 3121-3380] is a chronological list of portraits, medallion-portraits, busts, and statues of Linnaeus, whether appearing separately or as illustrations in books. The second part [Nos. 3381-3417] is a catalogue of medals of Linnaean interest, and the third [Nos. 3418-3430] is a list of undated portraits.	Nos. 3121-3430.
XV.	Herbarium and Collections.	Works relating to Linnaeus's natural history collections and to specimens therein.	Nos. 3431-3536.

XVI.	Lectures.	This is divided into two parts, the first [Nos. 3537-45] describing manuscripts of Linnaeus's professorial writings, and the second [Nos. 3546-62] cataloguing reprints or critical works.	Nos. 3537-3562.
XVII.	Works edited by Linnaeus.	This includes Artedi's Ichthyologia , 1738 [No. 3563], and Hasselquist's Iter Palcestinum , 1757 [No. 3577]. In this section are also found works to which Linnaeus contributed either a preface or with which he was in some way connected.	Nos. 3563-3604.
XVIII.	Works written with the co-operation of Linnaeus.	Here are such works as Gronovius's Flora Virginica , 1737-43 [No. 3605], in which Linnaeus definitely collaborated with the author.	Nos. 3605-3612.
XIX.	Bibliography.	Bibliographies of Linnaeus, in chronological order of publication, from 1740 down to the present day.	Nos. 3613-3725.
XX.	Miscellaneous.	Items of Linnaean interest, possessing a literary rather than a scientific significance, as, for instance, Monachologia , 1783 [No. 3727].	Nos. 3726-3741.
